

MPA Launches Digital Version of 'Sharing Good Practice 2021/22' Safer by Sharing... Recognising Achievement

Please review and share the digital version of this guide which summarises the entries from MPA's 2021 Health and Safety Awards that were winners, finalists or highly commended in the 8 topics. The innovations and good practice highlighted are relevant to all product groups within the mineral products industry.

The majority of the ideas featured could be applied or adapted by other organisations to help save lives and prevent injuries. Many of the entries have links to videos of the individuals directly involved, explaining what was done, the benefits that have been delivered, and how this concept might be applied at other locations.

The purpose of the guide is to help us learn from each other and to encourage you to be pro-active in promoting or implementing change in your own organisation – 'Safer by Sharing...Safer by Action'. Hard copies of the guide will be circulated in June.

By sharing this guide with others, you will also be helping to recognise and celebrate our achievements and those individuals who have been outstanding in delivering improvements in health and safety within their organisations. The winners of the following awards are also featured;
