

Worker Involvement: In Partnership with Management

A course developed by MPQC on behalf of Quarries National Joint Advisory Committee (QNJAC)

Who should attend?

Those in the workplace with a responsibility for communicating on health and safety issues, particularly members of safety committees. This course has been specifically designed for a membership equally split between management and workforce representatives.

Aims

To provide course members with an awareness of the benefits of worker involvement in health and safety, in particular by changing attitudes, behaviour and the accident reduction potential achievable by working in partnership to create and maintain a positive safety culture.

Content

- Workforce Involvement
- Overview of relevant legislation
- HSG 263: HSE: Involving your Workforce in Health and Safety
 - Planning
 - Preparation
 - Consultation and Involvement
 - Continual Improvement
- Risk Assessment
- Workplace Inspections
- Incident Investigation – Introduction to Root Cause Analysis
- Behavioural safety Case Study

Number of delegates

A minimum of 6 and maximum of 12, equally drawn from management and worker representatives.

Duration and delivery

This is a highly interactive one-day course utilising lectures, discussions and group exercises, DVD and case study. A multiple - choice knowledge assessment leads to the award of the MPQC Certificate of Achievement for those delegates successfully completing the course.

Contact details

For further details, or to make a booking, contact Maggi Pelling in Nottingham by:

Telephone on: 01159644920, or via

Email at: maggi.pelling@mpskills.co.uk