02 April at Somerset Earth Science Centre
01 July at Mansfield Sand, Nottinghamshire

Safer and Healthier by Leadership is an industry specific workshop which we believe is fundamental to developing world class health and safety performance.

Developed for MPAs member organisations, it's proved popular with leaders and managers – and those aspiring to move into these roles. It's a big opportunity to reflect on our own organisations' performance as well as our own performance as business leaders. You'll be able to determine if your relationship with health and safety is in good shape – as well as identifying your strengths and opportunities to improve.

Reasons to attend the workshop:

- You'll develop a strategic understanding of the true value of health and safety
- You'll be able to plan and implement effective risk control
- You'll get an insight into good practices from leading global organisations
- You'll be able to position your organisation's health and safety performance
- You'll recognise opportunities that good performance brings and the consequences of poor performance

The workshop includes a pre-workshop questionnaire which asks you to consider the maturity of your organisation. To successfully complete the day, you're required to prepare three impactful pieces of personal improvement. These workshops are delivered by industry expert, Darren Broadhead from Broadhead Global.

All seminars are accredited by the Institute of Occupational Safety & Health (IOSH) and carry a minimum of 6 hours accredited CPD.
